Costa Rica's tallest mountain, Cerro Chirripo (3,820 masl), borders the Pérez Zeledón area to the northwest, with Panama at the southeast border. Irregular topography, pure abundant rivers and diverse ecosystems provide ideal conditions to produce unique coffees. Coffee is central to the region's history, as it significantly contributed to the social and economic development, generating a culture of values and principles built on family union.

CUPPING NOTES: Bright Acidity, Smooth Body, Brown Sugar, Lemon/Lime, Nougat, Nice Sweet and Complex Coffee.

NOT JUST COFFEE, YOUR COFFEE.
